 Company:	Code for Ghana
 Sector:	Government & Public Sector
 Product / service:	Platform
 Type of data:	Government data
 Origin:	Ghana

Description

Code for Ghana is a platform that builds an active open data ecosystem by bringing developers, journalist and civic society together. In addition, the community builds applications and platforms that promote citizen engagement and partners with CSOs, NGOs and government organisations to bring meaning to their datasets.

Benefits

Through the applications and platforms, citizens stay informed on and are enabled to demand accountability, transparency and better services from the government.

How open data is used

Code for Ghana also organises data bootcamps to share knowledge and expertise on the value of open data and its tools. In these events, participants are encouraged to explore datasets from a variety of domains in Ghanaian society, for example education, or demographic statistics.
