Quick facts

-  Developer: Jan Roar Beckstrøm
-  Sector: Government & Public Sector
-  Product / service: Website
-  Type of data: Parliamentary data
-  Origin: Norway

Benefits

-  Provides transparency on the work of parliamentary representatives.
-  Makes answers provided by the government easily accessible.
-  Shows trends on which topics or issues are most prominent.

How Open Data is used

-  Folk på tinget uses Open Data from Norway's parliamentary data service and gathers both the questions that parliamentarians have asked the government as well as the government's responses.
-  Additionally the website provides search functions and statistics about the topics that representatives are mostly concerned.

Future plans

-  The website was the result of the #hack4no 2017 hackathon, where it came third in competition.
-  Currently it is in prototype status, but is to be further developed and refined.
